

Chepstow Chamber of Commerce & Tourism

1947 - present

Who are we?

Chepstow Chamber of Commerce & Tourism is a voluntary group of local businesses and individuals, operating in and around the Chepstow area; aimed at collectively promoting business and the local economy. We represent a wide range of enterprises (such as service, retail, tourism, hospitality) and seek to ensure your voice and issues are heard; to make Chepstow a great place to work and live.

Background

The Chamber was founded in 1947 by locals Fred and Herbert Griffiths, to help boost trade after the Second World War. Since then, businesses have faced a range of issues and, in the present day, Chamber Members face modern challenges, such as sales and service competition from the Web, large shopping centres and globalisation.

Aim

Our overriding aim is to create an environment in which to promote, develop and further the business interests of Members, which includes a collective voice to represent and protect Members' interests.

Benefits of joining include:

- Being part of a business support network
